Claim Objections

Claim 3 is objected to because of the following informalities: the claimed “shifted in the direction of said ocular with reference to said first attachment element” does not define a specific direction. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-13, 17-24 and 26-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Marcosky.

Marcosky discloses “a mount” 3, “an attachment element” 6 and a “base” 2. The “base” 2 of Marcosky includes “a base attachment element” 27. And the “mount” 3 of Marcosky is connected to “base” 2 “via a joint” 3a.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 14, 16 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Marcosky.

Art Unit: 2851

Marcosky differs from the claimed invention, as Marcosky discloses using a generic hinge and not “a ball joint” or “a latchable ball joint” as claimed. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of applicant's invention to substitute the well-known latchable ball joint for the generic hinge of Marcosky. One would have been motivated to so modify Marcosky for the attendant benefits of ball joints which allow rapid and infinite adjustment of the angular position of the two elements joined together by the ball joint.
